

Start your Christmas with the Chorale

It's on again! Eleven years ago Noosa Chorale introduced its Christmas "Wassail" and since then audiences have revelled in the genial atmosphere of hearty Christmas Cheer.

"Many of those who regularly come say that for them the Wassail is really the start of celebrating Christmas," Chorale president Gai Ramsay told Tune In.

"Its popularity is shown each year by the two-night Christmas party being a sell-out and this year is no exception.

"There are just a handful of table places left for Saturday but there are still a few left for Friday."

"Noosa people love sitting at "cabaret-style" tables, having a few drinks, enjoying mince pies, cheese platters and joining the choir with the sing-along from word sheets of well-known carols."

This year's theme is "JOY" and Gai predicts the J will "jump with joy" with the programme music director Adrian King has planned.

"It's an extravaganza of carols and classical music, with highlights of Beethoven's famous 'Ode to Joy' and, from Vivaldi's 'Gloria', the luminous duet 'Laudamus te' sung by soprano Fran Wilson and mezzo-soprano Debra Schneider.

"We all need a little joy in our lives at times and I can't think of a more joyful way to start the festive season.

"The J will once again look like a Christmas wonderland and Chorale singers like our talented Jenny Jackson and Peter Althaus along with supporter Bob Ramsay have created some wonderful decorations."
